☐ CONDUCTING COIL FROM ANCIENT EGYPT

Wall inscriptions with several of these coil shaped relics have been discovered. It's said they were possiely light bules. The light bulb inscriptions at the famous Temple of Hathor, were classified as OOPArts (Out-Of-Place Artifacts) because like most other OOPArts, a proper explanation for their existence has not been discovered. In reality, the part which looks like the bulb actually depicts a halo, and the filament is actually a snake.

I SEE
OOPARTS ARE A PROBLEM
A RIDDLE LEFT BEHIND BY TIME
WHEN PEOPLE DISCOVER A PROBLEM, THEY CAN'T STAND NOT FINDING THE SOLUTION
